Puppies

Getting an early start on grooming is very beneficial for your pup. It helps puppies to get accustomed to the routine, tools and groomer. When introduced gently and positively, grooming becomes a pleasant experience, this helps prevent fear or anxiety as they grow older.

Matting

We practice humanity before vanity. Matting can cause serious skin and coat issues. The risk of mats can lead to discomfort, bacterial infections, circulation problems, and it can hide wounds or skin issues.

The best prevention is brushing and combing often at home and setting up a regular schedule for spaw days.

Nail Care

The importance to nail care is simple, it ensures proper posture & paw structure, joint health and comfort. Regularly maintained nails also helps with scratching of you and your flooring. Note: typically, if you can hear the nails on hard surfaces, it's time for a trim and buff.

Brushing

Brushing is important for multiple reasons. It helps to remove dead hair; controls shedding and prevents matting. Along with stimulating the skin and coat to encourage production of natural oils, aiding in a healthy and shiny coat. It also helps detect skin issues early on and can strengthen the relationship between you and your dog. Regular brushing helps maintain your dog's comfort.

Scheduling

Keeping to a 4-8 week appointment schedule ensures your dog's optimal health, appearance, and a positive grooming experience. Appointments exceeding 8 weeks may incur higher prices. We value building relationships and maintaining your pet's well-being.
